Brasier; thereby discovering those principles of Honour and Generosity, which are undoubtedly characteristick of the Person; the former Owner thinks himself in Gratitude bound to an attempt to some small Recompence for so great a Kindness as the wresting from his Hands so dangerous an Instrument, to acquaint said Person that as the Pistol is to it is still in his own Hands, he will with the greatest Pleasure relinquish it to him, that thereby the Pair may be complete, and he have an Opportunity of acknowledging his Benefactor; or if the worthy Gentleman should prefer a more Honorable Method of obtaining it, he is desired to leave a Card with the Printers, appointing a Time and Place for each by consulting the Point, in a Way most consistent with those Sentiments of Honour, which it is to be presumed, actuated him to procuring the other, the Owner will meet him with the other, and consent that the Pair shall be the Palm of Victory; If neither of these shall be consistent with the Gentleman's Modesty and Delicacy, the Advertiser is compelled by the warmest Sense of Gratitude which so justly influence his Breast, and the desire of expressing it Personally to his Benefactor, to offer a Reward of TEN DOLLARS to any Person who shall give Information of him, so that Matters may be duly adjusted, and all Favours acknowledged.

To the PUBLIC,

ALARMED with the report of a fresh plot of that detestable schemer, to fix our chains, by an effort to entice us to be accessary to our own destruction; on the very heels of the flattering assurances that our every real and even imaginary grievance was forthwith to be redressed: I was inveighing against the wickedness as well as imprudence of such an insult upon the good sense of the colonies; and was taken up with some warmth by a person who said that those paultry writers in the papers would never have done inflaming the people's minds with their false and injurious clamors against the government—that nothing could be safer than the insinuations, both in the New-York and Boston papers of the ill designs of administration,—that he himself had read the act of parliament, and that it contained a full and absolute repeal of all duties, customs, penalties and forfeitures whatever on tea, arising by any act or all the acts then and heretofore in being. Not being properly provided for the argument, I went to the printer's and obtained a sight of the act, which being lengthy, I have extracted the essence of it for the satisfaction of all persons who may fall into such honest company as above described, viz. "And whereas by an Act made in the Ninth and Tenth Years of the Reign of King William the Third, (intitled, An Act for raising a Sum not exceeding Two Millions, upon a Fund, for Payment of Annuities, after the Rate of Eight Pounds per Centum per Annum; and for settling the Trade to the East-Indies.) and by several other Acts of Parliament which are now in Force, the said United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies are obliged to give Security, under their Common Seal, for Payment of the Duties of Customs upon all unrated Goods imported by them, so soon as the same shall be sold; and for exposing such Goods to Sale, openly and fairly, by Way of Auction, or by Inch of Candle, within the Space of Three Years from the Importation thereof: And whereas it is expedient that some Provision should be made to permit the said United Company, in certain Cases, to export Tea, on their own Account, to the British Plantations in America, or to Foreign Parts, without exposing such Tea to sale here, or being charged with the Payment of any Duty for the same; be it therefore enacted by the Authority aforesaid, That from and after the passing of this Act, it shall and may be lawful for the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or any Three or more of them, or the High Treasurer for the Time being, to grant a Licence or Licences to the said United Company, to take out of their Warehouses such Quantity or Quantities of Tea as the said Commissioners of the Treasury, or any Three or more of them, or the High Treasurer for the Time being, shall think proper, without the same having been exposed to Sale in this Kingdom; and to export such Tea to any of the British Colonies or Plantations in America, or to Foreign Parts, discharged from the Payment of any Customs or Duties whatsoever; any Thing in the said recited Act, or any other Act, to the Contrary notwithstanding.

Provided always, and it is hereby further enacted, by the Authority aforesaid, That a due Entry shall be made at the Custom-House, of all such Tea so exported by Licence, as aforesaid, expressing the Quantities thereof, at what Time imported, and by what Ship; and such Tea shall be shipped for Exportation by the proper Officer for that Purpose, and shall, in all other Respects, not altered by this Act, be liable to the same rules, regulations, securities, penalties & forfeitures, as tea exported to the like places was liable before the passing of this act." Now tho' it is indeed said they may obtain a licence to take out of their warehouses such quantities of tea as the commissioners of the treasury shall think proper, without exposing it to sale by public auction, and export it to the British colonies or foreign parts, discharged from the payments of any customs or duties whatever; any thing in the said act or any other act to the contrary notwithstanding; it is plain to a person who goes over the whole with the least attention, that it only means to discharge the company of duties payable in England: However covertly the low cunning of the small Premier of Great Britain, was pleased to express it. A man must be lamentably weak or wicked to pretend that the rules, regulations, &c. mentioned in the latter recited clause, do not include the American imposition! N. B. I avoid the words customs and duties as cautiously as his Lordship does; for the custom is but a very recent innovation, imposed without consent, and never acquiesced in; and I esteem it as much my duty to raise a regiment at my own expence, and with a goodly number of my well affected countrymen, to attempt the restoration of the Stuart family, to the throne of Britain, as to contribute one farthing to the support of the measures for which they were expelled. Those cattle who can sell themselves, country & posterity, from one seven years to another, may riot and loiter in the price of their treason: But what Man can unmoved read and hear of the trustees of a Nation's treasure, most hardly squeezed from the laborious husbandman and mechanic, for the support and defence of the commonwealth, lavishing this treasure upon a herd of perjured villains, to entice them to give their suffrages for a banditi of traitors, whose avowed design is to surrender the rights they are in duty, conscience, and honor, obliged to defend? And what prince, sworn to maintain the laws and constitution of his Empire, can connive at such villainy, without abolishing his title to the crown, in as absolute a manner as did the unhappy wretch who so lately abdicated it? I think upon the whole the traduced writers are far from deserving the reproach of this vindicator of the British ministry. Nothing can be more evident than their aim to get all the trade and property in the empire into their own power—their strides are large, numerous and hasty; and if they are not vigorously opposed, a community of noble, generous and magnanimous freemen will soon be reduced to a herd of miserable, indigent and spiritless slaves! Our expectations of relief have been too long misplaced. (1)

Had we treated the extortors of this slavish tribute, on thier first entrance into America, in the same just and spirited manner as we did the execrable stampmasters, we should not at this day be waiting the issue of petitions at the court of Great Britain. Perhaps it is not yet too late to free ourselves from popes, devils and locusts. (1) The fifth of November has been for two centuries celebrated in commemoration of such deliverances.

LONDON, August 10.

THE blessed Guardians of our Constitution are now retiring to their several rural mansions, there to contemplate the victories they have gained over the LIBERTIES of a brave, yet INSULTED PEOPLE. If we ask what hath been done this Session? the true answer is, "every thing that could promote the despotic views of the CROWN; nothing that could secure the Rights or Privileges of the PEOPLE;" public Credit hath been destroyed; private Faith hath been trampled upon; and the property of individuals, held under the sanction of CHARTERS, hath been sacrilegiously seized by an all-grasping, indolent, upstart Minister, the better to answer the purposes of CORRUPTION. The National Debt, so far from being considerably lessened, hath been considerably INCREASED; and the SINKING FUND, the only means appropriated for its payment, hath been broken in upon, and impiously vowed to make good the supplies. Not an Act hath passed but what clearly betrays the stupidity of our Ministers. The East-India Bill, the excellence of which the Hirelings were directed to trumpet forth; the EAST-INDIA REGULATING BILL is framed in so bungling a manner, that the Cabinet are at this moment unable to make out the Commissions for the Judges, every part of the Bill being CONTRARY to the constitutional principles of LAW; it is impossible to couch the Commissions in that LEGAL PHRASEOLOGY which only can invest the Judges with authority necessary to carry their decisions into execution. If ANY Precaution is taken by the Bill, it is to SAVE THE HEAD OF THE MINISTER. The Judges are not made removeable by complaint made to his Majesty [IN COUNCIL] for then such complaint would become MATTER OF RECORD, and the offensible Minion might be IMPEACHED. To save therefore his blundering noddle upon his brawny shoulders, the East India Judges are removeable on [REPRESENTATION] not [COMPLAINT] being made to the KING ONLY; so that should the King treat this representation as he has done some late Remonstrances, no remedy is left; the REPRESENTATION not being made to the KING IN COUNCIL, is no matter of record, consequently the Minister is screened from every kind of prosecution. It must give the LOYALISTS of the present age great pleasure to screen a Minister from punishment, be his political crimes of the blackest dye; and it must tempt every Knave in the Kingdom to join the KING'S FRIENDS, when he sees the pains taken to frame Acts of Parliament, so as to save those friends from IMPEACHMENT and a SCAFFOLD.

LONDON,

Aug. 8. It is reported, that Governor Hutchinson is shortly expected here from America. God speed him.

Aug. 12. Governor Hutchinson's Letters, which have given such Offence to the Americans, were written to Mr. WHATELY, the Compiler of the STAMP-ACT, and one of George Grenville's Legion, and since his Death having fallen into other Hands, they were sent over to Boston. by D. Franklin.

QUEBEC, September 19.

On Monday last the Hon. Hugh Finlay, Esq; one of his Majesty's Council for this province, and Surveyor General of the Post-Roads in North-America, set out from this city, attended by Mr. Maseniere an Indian Interpreter, and four Indians, with an intention to steer a direct course through the woods from Satigan in this province to Fort Halifax in New-England, in order to ascertain the uninhabited distance, and to estimate the expence of opening a post-road that way, if it should be found practicable; a thing so long in agitation, so much desired, and that must be of such mutual advantage to both provinces, and afterwards to make a tour to the southward to survey the several post-roads in the King's dominions on this continent.

NEW-YORK, October 7.

Extract of a Letter from London.

"It is under Consideration of the East-India Company to send out a large Quantity of Tea in the Ships now going, and the Company to pay the Duties here. The Intention of Government in adopting this Plan, is in order to inforce the Act; — I hope the Yorkers will stand their Ground. I have told several of the Company that the Tea and Ships will be all burnt; which I really believe will be the Case, as I think you will never suffer an Act of Parliament to be so crowded down your Throats; for if you do, its all over with you. I have strongly dissuaded many of the Company from putting you to the disagreeable Necessity of taking a Step that may be disagreeable to many of you."

"An unusual plenty of money is now daily dissipating in the several boroughs preparatory to a new general election. Corruption has already increased the illness of the people, and a great neglect of manufacture succeeds both in the north and west of England. The citizens of London seem determined to return Mr. Wilkes again, with their favourite Mr. Bull, so that the popular party will this year have a Mayor, as well as both the sheriffs to their liking."

BOSTON, October 18.

Messieurs PRINTERS,

A Merchant of this Town informed a Friend of mine that some Days ago he had an Order by Water from his Correspondent in Philadelp, to buy and send him a Number of Chests of Tea, on Arrival of the first East-India Cargo; but, that by the last Post he had a countermand of said Order, with Instruction to make the best he could of any Tea he might have purchased in Consequence of it, as it would inevitably be destroyed if an Ounce of it was known to be brought into that City.

A notable Evidence this of the Spirit of our Philadelphia Brethren; and you may venture to assure them, Messi'rs Printers, that they will find no Importer's Fathers, or any other self-interested Wretches here at this Day, hardy enough to make a new Experiment on the Temper of the People. X. Y.

It is said that the mercantile spirit which so notably distinguished the Father, bids fair to eternize the names of his Exc—y's two children, their known principles having incited the East India Company to pitch upon them as Consignees of the Axes and Scalping Knives shipping by them for the Port of Boston. (4)

It is the current Talk of the Town that Richard Clarke, Benjamin Faneuil, Esqrs; and the two young Messi'rs Hutchinsons, are appointed to receive the Teas allowed to be exported for this Place. This new Scheme of Administration, lately said to be so friendly to the Colonies, is at once so threatning to the trade, and so well calculated to establish & encrease the detested Tax-ation, that an attempt to meddle with this pernicious Drug, would render men much more respected than they are, as obnoxious as were the Commissioners of stampt-paper in 1765.

Should the Tea now shipping for Boston be returned to England, as it undoubtedly will, if the People do not insist on copying the resolutions of Philadelphia and New-York to destroy it; Lord North will meet with a rebuff, which will put his utmost firmness to the Trial. It will be impossible for his Lordship after having exerted all his cunning in flattering the East India company to withstand their peremptory demand of a total repeal of the Tea Act.

A correspondent has hinted, that it would be highly improper to return those great Cargoes of Tea that are expected, without sending the important Gentleman whose existence depends on it along with it, to give the Premier the reasons of such conduct.

The only objection to reshipping the Tea is, that in such case our excellent Governor and Superior Judges will inevitably fall back into a dependance on the Populace for their support.

The General Assembly which stood Prorogu'd to the Third Day of November next, is further Prorogued to the Twelfth Day of January.

Last Tuesday sailed for Naples in Italy, the Ship King of Naples, Capt. John Studdy, with whom went Passengers, Mr. James Bowdoin, Son of the Hon. James Bowdoin, Esq; and Mr. Ward Nicholas Boylston, of this Town, Merchant.

Captain Cockran from Glasgow for N. Carolina put in here on Thursday last, after 6 Weeks and 3 Days Passage. On the 4th Instant, he spoke Capt. Richmond from Virginia for Whitehaven; and on the 12th with Captain Cain from Portsmouth for Grenada, out 8 Days, all well.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman at Barbadoes, to his Friend in this Town, dated Sept. 11. 1773.

"The Legislature of this Island have this Day dispatched a Law for his Majesty's Confirmation, to make Barbados a free Port; the staple Commodities of the Island only excepted."

Yesterday arrived a Schooner from St. Lucie, under the Command of Mr. Thayer, Capt. Sampson having died the 28th Instant on the Passage.
